LITTLE AMMUNITION.

Our Torpedo Boats Practically Useless in Case of War.

Washington, July 25.—Discovery that the torpedo boat flotilla, in case they had discharged 700 torpedoes, they had discharged 700 torpedoes, has aroused Representative Britten of Illinois, Republican member of the house naval affairs committee. That number of torpedoes according to Mr. Britten, is the sole stock on hand in the United States navy and the two factories which manufacture the death dealing engines can turn out only a limited number each year. Mr. Britten today announced his intention of introducing a bill appropriating $400,000 to double the capacity of the naval torpedo plant at Newport, R. I. The Illinois member is recently returned from a tour of inspection of the Atlantic coast navy yards taken with his fellow members of the house committee. He declared that of the stock of 700 torpedoes many are not new and that their replacement would be a serious problem in war time because of the limited capacity of the two producing plants, one of which is a private concern.

The navy's torpedo plant at Newport, Mr. Britten said, has a capacity of only 100 torpedoes a year. The present private corporation under pressure, is capable of turning out twice that number per annum. He pointed out that any depletion of the existing stock could imperil the high pressure work by both plants to provide even a limited number of torpedoes for the small craft and for the torpedo tubes of the battleships and cruisers.

"BORAX" SMITH SUE.

Bankruptcy Started Against Head of $200,000,000 Concerns.

San Francisco, July 25.—The tangled affairs of F. M. Smith, the "borax king" and head of a two hundred million dollar stock corporation, were taken into the bankruptcy court yesterday when four creditors of the financier, with claims amounting to $155,000 filed a petition in the United States circuit court asking that Mr. Smith be declared an involuntary bankrupt.

The petition declares that prior to May 5, when a committee was appointed to act as trustees in managing Mr. Smith's affairs, he conveyed without money consideration properties valued at $1,000,000 to the Mercantile trust company, to E. E. Edwards and to his wife, at a time when he was insolvent. These transfers, it is alleged in the complaint constitute acts of bankruptcy.

INDIANS WERE SLOW.

But a Number of Them Finally Reached the City Jail.

There are now about a dozen Indians in the city jail on a charge of drunkenness. All of them came down to see the circus and visited the city lock-up instead. Although there are not as many as usually so in the prison on circus day, the police officers were kept busy last night and this morning making arrests.

James Shumway was the first offender and he was arrested at First avenue and Madison street by Officers Ferguson and Brown on the charge of being drunk. On the way to the police station he gave several warwhoops which startled many people on the East side. As soon as he got in the prison he began singing about what a big man he was.

WILSON'S COUSIN LIVES.

L. A. Walker Gets Parsons Postoffice Instead of Miss Reardon.

Parsons, Kan., July 25.—Among the unsuccessful applicants for the position of postmaster here, to which place Mr. L. A. Walker has just been appointed, was Miss Lydia S. Reardon, who is a cousin of President Wilson. Miss Reardon was said to have received encouraging letters from Mrs. Wilson regarding her candidacy, and some expected her to secure the appointment because of her relationship to the president. Miss Reardon resides on a farm near South Mound, Kan.

Telephone Fails Cupid.

Atchison, Kan., July 25.—Because she said her parents wanted her to marry a man with lots of money and scolded her because she persisted in going with a boy who possessed little means, Grace Hoskins, the daughter of Frank Hoskins, a wealthy Nemaha county farmer, ran away from home and came to Atchison. Edward Linnhan, lover of the girl, came on the same train from Central Iowa. Each is 17 years old.

SUMMER TERM ENDS.

Picken's Services at Hays Station Are Completed.

Hays, Kan., July 25.—The closing exercises of the summer term of the Western State Normal school were held Thursday. The day was of especial significance because it marked the retirement of Principal W. S. Picken. He came to Hays as the first head of the school in 1902. Since that time he has seen the school grow from small beginnings to an institution with 600 students, a faculty of 21 and buildings worth $150,000. He has the good will of the school and the community. Exercises were wholly in his favor. His successor is W. A. Lewis of the University of Utah.

No Feed for Hogs in Jewell.

Jewell City, Kan., July 25.—There is a change in the temperature here, it being considerably cooler, but no rain. Farmers are more worried about feed for hogs on account of the alfalfa being badly burned. J. W. Perry has 100 head and has been trying to buy corn for them. He has not given up the corn crop on his place yet if it rains soon. His fields are favorably located.

A SENSATIONAL FILM.

Shadows of the Night Will Be Shown at the Novelty.

"The Gangsters," or "The Shadows of the Night," a sensational three reel detective feature photo-play will be shown at the Novelty today and tomorrow. The sensationalism of this picture promises to be the best of its kind that has ever been presented in Topeka. A chase in autos, elevators, railroad trains, and other startling events will be shown on the screen. Another sensational feature is the airship racing to reach a steamer in mid-ocean. The price of admission will be 10 cents.

EDITORS IN A RUT.

Professor Flint Says and He Plans to Get Them Out.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—J. N. Flint, assistant professor of Journalism at the University of Kansas is studying eastern newspaper methods, in an effort to invigorate Kansas journalism by placing the newspapers of that state on a more prosperous business basis. He hopes not only to improve the character of the papers, but furnish a field at home for the graduates of the school of Journalism of the university. Mr. Flint is in Washington and will remain here several days.

"Many Kansas editors have fallen into a rut," said Mr. Flint to the State Journal correspondent. "They have been content to jog along and make a bare living. It is the purpose of the school of Journalism to show these editors how they can increase their receipts by improved business methods and by reaching out for advertising which they could get if they went after it. In this way we plan to improve the papers."

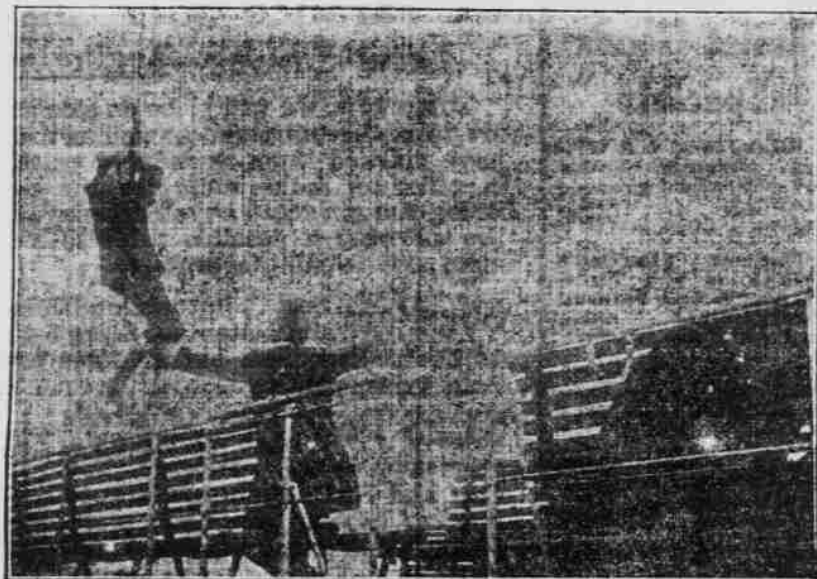

"More business will mean more money for improved equipment and the employment of more men."

"The students now get out a four-page daily, and the work of the school is progressing satisfactorily. We have 10 students this year. We have 14 courses of newspaper work, from reporting to problems of policy. The extension work among the editors is meeting with great favor."

Mr. Flint plans to spend three weeks in New York city studying the business and news-gathering methods of the big dailies, in order to develop a course of comparative Journalism.

The school of Journalism of the Kansas university, under the management of Merle Thorpe, of the state of Washington and this city, has already won much favor among the newspapers of the country. Mr. Thorpe is considered one of the brightest lights in the school of young men in journalistic work.

"A palmet is like a tramp." "How so?" "He's usually looking for a 'hand out.'"

E. B. MCCORMICK RESIGNS.

Dean in Engineering at Manhattan—A'Hearn Will Remain.

Manhattan, Kan., July 25.—Following the meeting of the board of administration here, President H. J. Waters of the Agricultural college, announced that Dean E. B. McCormick of the engineering department, has resigned. Professor McCormick's resignation was given to President Waters some time ago and it was handed to the board yesterday and the board accepted it. No successor was named. Dean McCormick has been with the State Agricultural college for over twelve years.

Professor "Mike" A'Hearn, who was offered a high salary position with the University of Maine recently, will remain with the Kansas school, but at a salary of $800 less than the Maine school offered him. The board promoted him to the position of associate professor of horticulture.

MILITIA WILL HIKE.

Program for Next Week Will Be Arduous.

Junction City, Kan., July 25.—While no definite orders have been issued, semi-official reports at the Kansas National Guard camp at Fort Riley are to the effect that there will be a heavy march for the entire command on Monday. Whether this will be incorporated in a maneuver, or whether it will simply be a march across the reservation, with the men carrying full equipment is not known. Until that time the program will consist of routine drills and duties.

From The Shadows

TWO REELS

A great desert scene, showing a terrible drought which is killing the cattle and driving the Indians to desperation through hunger. The uprising of the redskins and the sensational struggles for life by the immigrants. Thrilling rescue of the settlement by the troops, who drive off the Indians after a hard fought battle. Scenes of melting pathos as the orphaned baby, saved from the maelstrom of death in which its parents perished, is placed in the arms of the delicious wife of the colonel, whose brooding over her own dead child threatens her reason and her life.

A superbly acted drama, showing how the reason of a mother, mourning the death of her child, was saved by the gentle touch of baby fingers, itself brought from the valley of the shadow of death.

The Failure of Success

TWO REELS

With gold beyond his wildest dreams, despised by his fellow men, scorned by the women whose lives he had nearly wrecked, and with his own child turning away from his proffered embrace in horror, Jabez Crow looked back over the path he had trod and saw the specters of his mispent life. Obsessed with regret and remorse, he destroyed himself, leaving a will in which he endeavored to make reparation for the wrongs he had committed.
